

CONGRESS HAS GOOD MAJORITY

Republicans Will Carry Enough Disputed Districts To Make It An Assured Thing.

CUBAN TROUBLE FRETS ROOSEVELT

General Letter On The Situation As Viewed From The Nation's Capital By William Wolff Smith, Gazette Correspondent.

Special Correspondence.
Washington, D. C., October 5.—Representative James T. Tawney, of Minnesota, Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, says the Republican party is certain to come out on top at the coming election for Members of Congress. Mr. Tawney passed through Washington this week on his way to Chicago, to direct the Western end of the Republican Congressional campaign. It is Mr. Tawney's opinion that the government ownership doctrine as enunciated by Mr. Bryan in his Madison Square Garden speech had the effect of dampening the ardor of the Democrats who had bright prospects of gaining Members of Congress prior to Mr. Bryan's declaration in favor of government ownership of railroads. "Those Democrats," as they came into New York, were full of vim and vigor, and gave promise of putting up a stiff fight for the next House," said Mr. Tawney. They expected Bryan to pitch into the campaign and help them, and their visions with regard to the next House and the future of their party were of the most pleasant sort. But Mr. Bryan's speech declaring for government ownership, has thrown them into despair and they admit they will be defeated. It was a severe jolt for the Democrats for Bryan to plunge them into this situation and they realize that such a doctrine as advocated by Mr. Bryan is not feasible of accomplishment and will not be favored by the people.

"There is no danger of our losing the House in the November election," continued Mr. Tawney. "The task of overturning sufficient districts to give the House to the Democrats is impossible of accomplishment this year, and Democrats who have been among the vigorous made will be in vain. We shall lose some districts, but the administration will have an ample Republican support throughout the Sixtieth Congress."

Cuban Situation
The Cuban situation is engrossing the attention of the President and his advisors more than any other subject of national interest. Now that the United States has taken steps to restore tranquility in Cuba and place that country on a firm basis, the thought of the administration will be to that island Republic. The president is upheld by everyone of prominence in his course toward the Cuban government. Senator Foraker, of Ohio, thinks it is the duty of the United States to intervene, not, however, for the purpose of annexation, but to re-establish proper international relations. He does not think a majority of the people of this country want Cuba annexed to this country. "The Cuban people are in many respects different from Americans. They are of the Latin race; their institutions are founded on the basis of the common law; they are not in revolt and revolutions. They would not harmonize with our people and we would have trouble in legislating for them if they were part of our country. Their sugar and tobacco would come into competition with ours if they were annexed." The senator says the administration has no idea of annexing the island republic and concludes that if annexation should

GUILD AGAIN HEADS REPUBLICAN TICKET

Massachusetts G. O. P. Leaders Endorse Roosevelt and Renominate Present Ticket.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Boston, Mass., Oct. 5.—The platform as reported to the republican state convention today praises the administration of President Roosevelt and Governor Guild, and urges a revision of tariff when the interest of the country require it, but opposes government ownership of railroads. The convention by acclamation re-nominated Curtis Guild, Jr., for governor and all the other present officers.

Georgia Dairymen Meet
Macon, Ga., Oct. 5.—The Georgia

come it would be as the only way in which to secure permanent peace in the island.

Is Justified.
Senator Elkins of West Virginia says this country is justified in taking the step it has in Cuba. He thinks the annexation of Cuba to the United States is desirable, but how soon this will come I cannot say. He believes that in the end this country will annex Cuba at the request of her people. "Today I believe if there could be a free expression of the will of the Cuban people they would favor annexation," said Senator Elkins. "I have always believed that Cuba would be a part of this nation and admitted into the Union as a State."

Recalls Incident.
It will be remembered that in the spring of 1902 Senator Elkins introduced a resolution in the senate styled after the resolution proposing the admission of Texas into the Union. "I then predicted what is now happening," said Senator Elkins, "and in order to maintain order, peace and protection in the interest of the Cuban people, Cuba would be annexed. I think this government has made a mistake in not taking Cuba as we did the Philippines and Porto Rico. From the time of Jefferson has been favored by many leading American statesmen. I think President McKinley hoped in some way to bring about this annexation."

Democratic View.
Representative John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, the minority leader of the House of Representatives, does not think the United States is justified in intervening in Cuba. "We might be justified in mediating between the two factions, there and in bringing order out of chaos by that act, and then we ought to get out of Cuba. I am afraid that the president or some of his advisors are itching to get into Cuba and to stay there. He says that if the people of Cuba would of their own free will express a desire to be annexed to this country, it would be well and good for the United States to take them under its wing because of the geographical, naval and commercial advantages of Cuba. The main objection to the annexation of Cuba would be that we would be adding to the heterogeneity of our population. We have enough people of the negro race in this country now and we do not want under our flag any population that we neither can nor will assimilate. It ought to be our object to avoid, as far as possible, any unnecessary annexation of colored peoples. We ought to discourage by law and otherwise, their coming into the United States, even if they come of their own accord. I am afraid, however," concluded Mr. Williams, "that the annexation of the island of Cuba is an ultimate probability."

Representative Williams' Views on the negro question are from experience, as he lived in Mississippi the greater part of his life and has seen the disparity between the two races and the failure of the two to live peaceably together. "His views of separating the races is the same as that of many other politicians who believe that the avoidance of riots and race wars between the two races can only be prevented by the separation of the races."

Dairy and Live Stock association, one of the most representative organizations of its kind in the south, began its annual meeting today in connection with the Centennial fair now in progress. The double attraction resulted in the largest attendance in the history of the association's meetings. The initial session was presided over by George C. Dillon of Macon and was devoted to a discussion of numerous questions relating to the dairy industry, the selection and breeding of dairy cows, the best food stuffs, and the treatment of cattle diseases. Tomorrow will be given over to the swine breeders.

Illuminating Gas Blows Up In A Subway Tunnel In The Quaker City.

Philadelphia, Oct. 5.—A terrific explosion of illuminating gas in the subway of the Rapid Transit Company under construction, in the business district today resulted in the death of six men and injury of a dozen others and three more missing. The property damage is very heavy.

One of the injured died this afternoon, making a total of seven known to be dead.

The explosion was caused by a leak in the gas main that had been improperly repaired last night. The escaping gas formed in a pocket in the subway and it is believed workmen carrying a lamp into the great hole ignited the gas.

BLUE UNIFORMS NOT TO BE DISCARDED

Soldier Has Failing for That Color, While Khaki and Olive Do Not Come Up to Expectations.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., Oct. 5.—The army quartermasters who have to do with the dress of the soldiers have decided to retain the blue shirt as a part of the uniform of the army. It will not be replaced entirely by the olive drab, or khaki, garment, of which there is some dislike, especially among the troops in the western part of the country. It is found, too, that there is a partiality for the blue shirt among soldiers in the tropics, it is more comfortable than the khaki shirt, and does not show the dust and dirt as plainly. There is much discussion in the military service regarding the use of khaki, and it is coming to be realized that it is not in all respects a worthy substitute for the blue, although it has the effect of contributing the element of invisibility which is lacking in the blue uniform.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, Oct. 5.—Over a twenty-nine-and-one-half-mile course, situated in the heart of Long Island, nineteen auto drivers, representing France, Germany, Italy and America, will tomorrow engage in the third annual international contest for the Vanderbilt cup, emblematic of the American road racing championship. The world's most prominent and daring drivers are represented in the entry list and have been preparing and tuning up their machines, that range from 80- to 120-horsepower, for the past two weeks; and in practice have repeatedly covered laps at speeds that averaged much better than a mile a minute. That tomorrow's contest will surpass its predecessors in interest, speed and personality is assured.

One hundred thousand persons is regarded as a conservative estimate of the crowd that will go to Long Island tomorrow to witness the race. Special trains will be run to Mineola and other towns along the course, at half-hour intervals, beginning soon after midnight tonight. Thousands of auto enthusiasts are already on the scene. Hotels and owners of private houses in the neighborhood of the course are reaping a harvest by letting their rooms and even their barns for the accommodation of those desiring to be on hand at the start of the race.

Unless there are one or more eleventh-hour withdrawals, eighteen, and possibly nineteen cars, will start in the mad dash around the ten-lap circuit in an attempt to bring an auto championship and trophy to their country. This year the American

Charleston, S. C., Oct. 5.—The first step toward deflecting New York's immigration tide and encouraging new settlers in the rural regions of the south will be taken at an early date, when a shipload of Belgians will be brought direct to this port from Bremen. Arrangements to this end have been completed by the South Carolina officials, who are so much interested in the plan that it is understood they have agreed to pay the transportation expenses of the first shipload of immigrants out of the state funds. The plan is to start a regular service from Europe to Charleston, the ships bringing immigrants here and returning with a cargo of freight. Some time since the state appointed a special immigration commissioner to perfect all arrangements.

At the close of the evening's entertainment, Watson Adkins, in behalf of the company presented him with a beautiful chair. Rev. and Mrs. Meads responded in a very impressive manner. The gift speaks much for the place. Mr. Meads held in the hearts of many. He will preach his farewell sermon next Sunday morning, Oct. 7, at eleven o'clock. Come all and hear him.

FOR BETTER ROADS.

Janesville is fortunate in being selected as the initial point for the good roads movement. Mr. Wellington E. Loucks, of St. Louis, is the national organizer, of which Col. W. H. Moore is president.

Their mission is to organize counties and create a demand for legislation favorable to state aid in establishing and developing good country roads. It is an educational mission most heartily endorsed by every state where they have introduced the work.

They organized the state of New Hampshire two years ago and assisted the people in securing an appropriation of $750,000 to aid in the work. The past two months they have spent in Vermont. The Burlington Free Press under date of Sept. 21 says of their work:

"It is the series of meetings now being held in the various counties of the state in the interest of good roads result in better highways throughout Vermont, the people of the Green Mountain state will be under lasting obligations to Col. W. H. Moore, president, and W. E. Loucks, organizer, of the National Good Roads association. Their ideas seem practical and to meet the conditions found in rural communities, as well as those that exist in villages and cities. That the people of Vermont, as well as those of other states, waste much money every year by the unsystematic manner in which they care for their roads has long been admitted. Feasible suggestions as to better methods of highway construction and repair should be gladly welcomed. Messrs. Moore and Loucks certainly made good at yesterday's convention in this city and there should be a large attendance at the sessions today."

They have just entered Wisconsin, where they hope to organize the counties for effective work. The plan of organization will be fully explained by Mr. Loucks at the meeting to be held this evening. It is the national plan for helping the people to intelligently help themselves in the work of making good streets and roads, and every man should be interested. Attend the meeting tonight.

DOLLIVER ON LA FOLLETTE.

Senator J. P. Dolliver paid his respects to Senator R. M. La Follette in a speech delivered before 1,000 people here this afternoon, says the Milwaukee Sentinel. He called no names, but when he proceeded to flay a certain "traveling politician" who had made a business during the last summer season to go from one Chautauqua platform to another and make an elaborate indictment against all departments of the government, voices here and there throughout the audience began to murmur "La Follette," which soon developed into a chorus, punctuated by yells of "Hit him again!" as the speaker arraigned the muckrakers of the present day.

"For several years the doctrine has been diligently taught," said Senator Dolliver, "that our form of government has fallen away from its primitive integrity and is dominated by the corrupt influence of corporations. Here in Iowa through our admirable Chautauqua system, we have paid out large sums of money during the last two or three years to hear an elaborate indictment laid against the entire machinery of our government for a whole generation past. The purpose of the orator appeared to be to popularize a proposed amendment to the interstate-commerce law, but nobody could listen to it without perceiving that if what he said was true, if, indeed, all departments of the government had for thirty years been submerged under the corrupt influence of the railroads and other corporations, the prospect of our escape through the interstate-commerce commission was so small as to excite hardly a languid interest in the audience. If people generally believed what this man said he might well look with despair upon the future of popular government in the United States."

Senator Dolliver told his hearers if they thought the present was more corrupt than the past they should take time to study the history of President Jackson's administration. He declared that President Roosevelt and those associated with him had done more to expose and punish graft than had been accomplished in twenty-five years.

The new franchise prepared by the council's attorney is certainly a dandy. One clause compels the road to issue transfers to the Rockford, Beloit and Janesville line. There would be just as much sense in asking the steam roads to do the same thing. Nothing is said about a mutual agreement, simply "It shall be done." That sort of legislation is simply another nail in the coffin lid.

One trouble with Janesville is, there are too many men in comfortable circumstances who are satisfied with present conditions. They don't want the town to grow, and they don't hesitate to say so. That's a fine proposition for the generation crowding to the front. Give the boys a chance.

The Milwaukee evening papers are making a desperate effort to gain a foothold in Janesville. The edition which comes to the city on the new train goes to press early in the day. While the Gazette covers the telegraph and local field until four o'clock, this fact will be appreciated by Janesville people.

At a mass-meeting held in Beloit last Tuesday evening money was subscribed to build 167 new houses for the accommodation of Fairbanks, Morse & Co.'s workmen. Someone suggested that Janesville had built 18 new houses this year for the accommodation of Beloit workmen.

Senator Spooner announces that he will support the entire state ticket. Senator La Follette will be obliged to do the same or else retire from the field. There is only one republican party in the state this year.

The aldermen should be candidates at large and elected by a vote of the people; then it wouldn't be possible for two or three wags to block an enterprise in which the entire city is interested.

How would you like to be an opposition alderman?

PRESS COMMENT.

After Seeing Loraine in Shaw Play. La Crosse Leader-Press: Considering what "Man and Superman" is, what must "Mrs. Warren's Profession" have been?

True, Too True! Menasha Record: There are 630 males and twenty females at the state prison. If it was a church service the figures would be reversed!

Wonder-Working Chicago. Superior Telegram: In southern California they are boiling dogs to make harness oil. In Chicago that same concern would be making olive oil.

Can Use Own Product. La Crosse Tribune: La Crosse has a broom factory and there is a growing sentiment that "Acenacy" is coming to demand that much of this product be used hereabouts.

Something Overlooked by Taft. Rockford Register-Gazette: In none of his addresses outlining his policy in Cuba has Mr. Taft told us whether or not our Havana cigars will continue to come from Connecticut and Wisconsin.

Only It Isn't. Berlin Journal: Once more the Madison-Janesville electric road is to be built! If all these proposed lines had been built there would have been a double four-track road. Just like Omro-Berlin.

Bold, Brave Minnesota Editor. Eau Claire Leader: A Minnesota paper called the Starbuck Times, is carrying "La Follette for president in 1908" at its masthead. Has Minnesota braver editors than can be found in the senator's home state?

Should Temper Their Howls. Exchange: Palma was guilty of ballot box stuffing, a sin not unknown in this happy land, but he never was a Weyler. Cuban intemperance of speech should come down and off several pegs; and then some more.

Regular Picnic Party. Exchange: Talking about grim-visaged war and bloody insurrection, the Havana folks have been going out to visit the camp of the revolutionists on the street-car. In fact, they made the camp at picnic ground. There are times when Nicholas must envy Palma.

Of Course, but Why Not? Exchange: In Chicago an Antisepic Kiss club has been organized, the members proposing to carry atomizers and disinfect the lips before kissing. Fancy the chagrin of the young man who, having induced her to come into the conservatory, finds his atomizer is not loaded.

How Roller Skating Plays Havoc. Exchange: A Missouri newspaper has discovered one cause of female forgetfulness in the community where it is published, and where a roller skating rink was recently opened. It says: "If there is a place on earth calculated to make a woman forget mother, home and heaven it is a roller skating rink."

Political Pull in England. El Paso Herald: Secretary after secretary of the English war office has pledged himself to turn a deaf ear to the importunities of grand dames seeking commissions for their scampish male friends, but not one has ever been able to resist the pull these women have in aristocratic society and in political circles.

Big Bomb Not Forthcoming. Fond du Lac Commonwealth: The investigation of state books at Madison, conducted under the direction of the last state democratic convention, is said to have been completed and Mr. Aylward, the democratic nominee for governor, it is expected, will announce the results when he opens the democratic campaign in Milwaukee tomorrow night. There is every reason to believe that what the democrats had hoped might develop into a mighty bomb will result only in a poor, undersized firecracker.

With No Quibbling About Franchise. Sheboygan Journal: Sheboygan people will welcome any new enterprise if it is legitimate. The more interurban electric roads, entering this city, and connecting it with the surrounding country, the more business will be brought to local merchants and the more this city will prosper. It does not matter who builds the electric lines, if they are built. Any such enterprise will be welcomed here. All that is required is that the men who are behind them show that the enterprise is bonafide. Local business men have promised to subscribe for $14,000 worth of stock in the proposed Manitowish-Sheboygan electric line, which is being promoted by the Behnske of Berlin. The subscription will be made on condition that the statements of financial ability made by the promoters can be unquestionably proven, and the money will be paid over when cars are running.

Nightmare Vindicated. Superior Telegram: The Chicago Chronicle mentions editorially a man "who was subject to nightmares from which his wife had to wake him and who had one of unusual severity and died from it."

The Chronicle is wrong. No man ever died as a result of nightmare. A nightmare is an effort of nature to save life. The forces of vitality are low in sleep. The heart action is slow and sometimes there is an unnatural pressure from an overloaded stomach that interferes with the flow of blood to and from the heart, and that interferes with the heart action. In some cases the heart action is weak without such interference.

But no matter what the cause may be, when the action of the heart becomes so weak that it is in danger of stopping entirely and causing death nature gives the person a nightmare to make him wake up and turn over, thus restoring a normal condition. If a man dies in a nightmare the death is a result of other causes and the nightmare is an effort of nature to save his life.

NATURAL BREAKWATER GONE

SERIOUS BREAK THROUGH SANTA ROSA ISLAND.

Strip of Land That Protected Pensacola From the Onslaughts of the Sea Has Been Cut Up.

Pensacola, Fla., Oct. 5.—Another serious break through Santa Rosa island has been found. The channel is about three feet deep and 50 to 100 yards wide. This makes three channels that have been cut in the island by the hurricane, one of which is a mile wide.

The island has always served as breakwater and protected Pensacola and it is feared that unless the government immediately undertakes to build breakwaters that the condition will become serious.

The body of one more storm victim was found Thursday. It was identified as the son of J. T. Mathews, of Escambia Bridge, who lost his wife, son and daughter.

The British steamer Axminster, which arrived from Havana, reported that between Pensacola and Havana she passed through several miles of water covered with oil and it is believed that Standard Oil barge No. 90, lost in that vicinity with nine men on board a week since, has gone to pieces.

ALL JANESVILLE TO BE INTERESTED

MASS-MEETING AT CITY HALL THIS EVENING.

GOOD ROADS AND STREETS

What It Would Mean to the City Will Be Explained—Everyone Should Go.

Easy hauls for farmers, more business for merchants of Janesville, increased comforts to the country homes and equalized traffic twelve months of the year is what the good roads movement means for Janesville and Rock county, as it was explained by Wellington E. Loucks of St. Louis to a number of citizens last night. Mr. Loucks is the national organizer of the National Good Roads association. He comes to Janesville to start a good roads campaign in Wisconsin, looking to the betterment of streets and roads, and it is expected the campaign in leading counties will lead to better legislation at the next meeting of the legislature.

The National Good Roads association is a powerful voluntary association which has already operated in thirty-two states. Its motto is agitation, education, organization and legislation for good roads. It is not urging increased taxation, but a more systematic and economical use of street and road funds. The united press of the country has enthusiastically espoused this cause, and the railroads, as heavytax payers, give hearty cooperation. Good roads trains have been operated on a dozen leading lines east, west and south. Legislation has been passed, favorable to state aid and state supervision, in nineteen states. Everybody wants good roads and this national movement is largely responsible for the progress so many states are now making. Mr. Loucks and his associates come to Wisconsin to organize a movement similar to the one they conducted so successfully in Ohio last fall.

"At the meeting last night it was decided to call a meeting at the city hall tonight at eight o'clock to decide if an organizing convention shall be held here in the near future. Mr. Parker and others will take Mr. Loucks in and around the city this afternoon to view roads and streets and needed improvements. Every heavy taxpayer and public-spirited citizen should be at the city hall tonight to hear Mr. Loucks and help secure this convention, which may lead to most practical results to Janesville and Rock county.

THE MANAGEMENT OF LIFE; FOUR SERMONS

Rev. R. C. Denison Will Use Comments of College, Academy and High School Students.

For the four Sunday evenings of October Rev. R. C. Denison has planned four sermons most interesting in theme and of unique construction. The general topic for the series is "The Management of Life" and the material used was gleaned in this wise: a little book of friendly advice was put into the hands of several young persons who were asked to read it and write their opinions on the margins. Two college boys, two high school and two academy students read the book and made comments. The sermon topics and dates are: October 7, "Our Lives in the Making"; October 14, "Getting Along with Others"; October 21, "Things Beneath Us"; October 28, "Things Above Us."

KICKERS' KOLUM.F

Editor Gazette: In your issue of the 4th inst. I notice an article on tobacco taken from an exchange, where it states that one of Janesville's largest tobacco dealers stated that many thousands of cases of Tennessee and Kentucky tobacco are shipped into this state and sold as Wisconsin tobacco. Now, if this dealer knows anyone who is selling Tennessee or Kentucky tobacco as Wisconsin it is his duty, not only to protect his own business, but, to protect the honest dealer who is selling it under the right name, to expose the one who is misrepresenting goods. I believe that if the gentleman, who ever he might be, would make specific charges to that effect he might get into serious trouble. Now, the facts in the case are that the high price of Wisconsin and other tobacco has driven many manufacturers of cigars to seek a substitute or go out of business. The southern tobacco is their only refuge. While this tobacco is different from any other tobacco in many respects it is superior to the Wisconsin product, but there is no one but a novice (possibly with this dealer excepted) but what would know at a glance that it was not Wisconsin tobacco, and it would be extremely folly for anyone to offer it as such.

Now there are a few dealers in this state who to alleviate the present stringency in the tobacco market are handling certain types of southern leaf and selling it to the cigar manufacturers, who are very thankful to be able to get it, being cheaper in price than anything that this large dealer has to offer. But it might be of consolation to him, to assure him that in no wise does it come in competition with Wisconsin tobacco, it being used almost exclusively for filler purposes. While Wisconsin is used for binder purposes only. And it might be news to him that the tobacco of Tennessee and Kentucky has a worldwide reputation and was sold on every market on the globe long before Wisconsin raised a pound, and that there is more of this tobacco handled and consumed in one month than Wisconsin produces in a year, and as large a dealer as he is here he would be lost in the shuffle there. Now I believe that the gentlemen engaged in handling these goods as a rule are honorable men; at least, they have violated no law, since their business is legitimate, and it is up to this dealer to explain. Will he do it?

SMALL DEALER.

Editor Gazette: Now the farmers of Janesville and vicinity have got their corn cut and potatoes dug, and if the aldermen will appoint someone to push the dead men over who are opposing the interurban railroad, we will come down and bury them free of charge. The farmers are all in favor of the interurban road, because it is a benefit to the county and in turn to the city. I do not live on the proposed line of the road but if the promoters will run the line out the Madison road the right of way would be granted quickly. As a farmer I am interested in seeing the whole community benefitted, as it would be with these interurban roads. Wake up, take opportunity by the forelock. A FARMER.

S.S.S. CURES CANCEROUS ULCERS

Whenever a sore or ulcer is slow in healing, and shows signs of eating into the surrounding flesh, it is safe to say that the blood is infected with cancerous germs. Some old, faint or poison that has lain dormant awaiting a favorable opportunity to assert itself has found an outlet on the face, arms, legs or other part of the body, and the place has become inflamed and festering, and a chronic ulcer is the result. When middle age is reached or passed, and the vital powers are naturally weaker, a hurt of any kind heals slowly, and often an insignificant scratch or bruise on warty, growths, moles, pimples, etc., will begin to inflame and are soon large, eating ulcers. The cancerous germs are rooted in the blood, and while salves, plasters, lotions, etc., keep the surface clean, they are useless in affecting a cure. S.S.S. cures cancerous ulcers by going down into the blood and removing the germs and poisons which produce the trouble. It cleanses the circulation of all unhealthy matter, and when the cause is removed the sore heals permanently. S.S.S. enriches and strengthens the entire blood supply, and being purely vegetable, it is a pleasant, safe remedy for young or old, and ulcers of every kind yield promptly to its curative properties. Your Own Examination

When you do come in to look at CLOTHCRAFT garments let your examination be as close and careful as you can make it.

CLOTHCRAFT Clothes will stand it. Behind every garment there is experience gained in fifty years of making the best.

CLOTHCRAFT Clothes represent the latest—the accepted style. They have the cut which will secure you a perfect, comfortable fit. The coats have the close collar, the smoothly setting lapels, the concaved shoulders, which always distinguish CLOTHCRAFT cut and make. And the real goodness isn't merely pressed in—it is built in—tailored in—to stay.

CLOTHCRAFT makers have preached—and practiced—the ALL-WOOL doctrine always. Nothing is good enough—except wool—for Clothcraft.

Your examination will show you pleasing prices, also.

Will you examine to-day—now—while the assortment of fabrics and patterns is complete?
